Authors and Illustrators' Book

Students in grades 1-5 will be given an opportunity to write and illustrate their own book. Students who wish to participate should create and illustrate their own original story. Students may work by themselves or with one partner. The story should be in the student's own words and with their own illustrations. You may help them with grammar, spelling and punctuation so that the book is ready for presentation like a published book. If you desire, it is permitted for you to type their words. Illustrations could be on the same page or a blank page or across from the worded page.

Please send the book with your child by February 21 so that they may enter their book into the Authors and Illustrators event.
